

StudentAffairs.com Virtual Case Study Project Summary Document

Prepared by Kathy Chambers, Lauryn Duruji, Maria Johnson, and Amanda Touchton

As we are all learning to return to normal after the COVID 19 pandemic, it is easy to feel disconnected, out of place, and lacking community. This is especially true at a large state university like the University of Florida (UF). As of Fall 2021, the university's enrollment was over 60,000 (Enrollment and Demographics). With the shift of bringing students back to face to face instead of virtual, we wanted to take this opportunity to highlight the student organizations that students can take part in here at the University of Florida. We encourage students to check out all that the University of Florida has to offer and find their "vibe". UF is a large institution and at times students can feel lonely, but there are plenty of ways students can be involved. We have created two events for students to participate in to help them find their "vibe" and learn about the many special places our campus offers.

The event we created to get students involved is called the "Find Your Vibe". With the tag line "we got that", we hope to encourage students to explore the many student organizations and Greek Life that the University of Florida has to offer. As a student at the University of Florida, you can enjoy paddle boarding on Lake Wauburg, Spring break trips to Puerto Rico, and many other great activities. Here at UF, we have something for everyone. Don't believe us? Just check out a few student organizations we offer here at the university. From a Florida Quidditch club to the Taylor Swift Society, "we got that". The Falling Gators Skydiving club? We got that! Gators Humans Vs. Zombies? We got that! Too adventurous for you? For our less adventurous Gators, we offer a ukulele club. So come join us to learn more, because here at UF "we got that". Join us on Friday, March 10th to learn more. Come dressed in your favorite Gator attire. Bring some friends or come alone. We will create teams so all can participate in the Snapping Gator

Challenge. Students will receive a map with clues of locations on campus. Some will be familiar spots and others may be new to students. As students find each stop, they will receive a stamp on their passport that they will be given at the first meeting on March 10. The final stop will end in a big party where student clubs and Greek organizations will be tabling. We will have food, entertainment, and fun! Students that complete the Snapping Gator Challenge will receive a t-shirt with the “Find Your Vibe” slogan printed on it. Students can learn more on Facebook or Instagram. So, join us for the Find Your Vibe event and find your place on campus.

References

Enrollment and Demographics. Institutional Planning and Research University of Florida. (n.d.).

Retrieved March 6, 2023, from <https://ir.aa.ufl.edu/facts/enrollment/>